

UNC
KIDNEY CENTER

Podcast Transcript:

Dr. Ron Falk

Vasculitis Foundation- North Carolina/Raleigh Chapter patient support meeting

May 2008

“Am I contagious?”

Here's the next question: Well, if what started my disease was started by some infectious agent, and it may be, am I going to pass that infection from one person to the other? No, this is not an infectious disease. You cannot give your disease to anybody else. By any means. If you could, we would have figured this disease out in detail. So it's not something you can communicate. This is not a communicable disease.